Statement of Commitment to Child Safety

At the heart of what we believe is that all children are ‘fearfully and wonderfully made’ by our loving God. This is reflected in our culture, in our teaching practices and pastoral care. We actively seek to create a culture of wellbeing: a culture of wellbeing is one in which students feel they belong; have a strong and positive identity and are connected in healthy relationships with peers and staff. It is a culture in which students flourish. A culture of wellbeing creates a safe environment in which students are more likely to demonstrate help seeking behaviours and identify trusted adults they can talk to about concerns or harmful situations they or their friends are facing.

Red Rock Christian College is committed to a learning and working environment for its students and staff that is safe, supportive and caring; free from wrongful discrimination and sexual harassment. The College has zero tolerance for child abuse. The College promotes safety of all children including those with disabilities and those from culturally diverse and or linguistically diverse backgrounds.

We want our students to learn and grow in an environment in which they know people care about them and honour who they are. The school requires that staff, students and other members of the community treat each other with respect and love. Staff are expected to display Christian love and appropriate professional behaviour in their dealings with each other and the students in their care.

We are committed to:

- treating all allegations and safety concerns seriously and consistently in accordance with our robust policies and procedures;
- rigorously follow legal and moral obligations to contact authorities when we have concerns about a child’s safety;
- preventing child abuse and identifying risks early, and removing and reducing these risks;
- applying robust recruitment practices for all staff;
- regularly training and educating our staff and volunteers on child abuse risks.

Philosophy of Education

Red Rock Christian College seeks to promote relationship with Jesus Christ as the source of all knowledge, wisdom and wellbeing. We foster learning and wellbeing by establishing student identity in being 'fearfully and wonderfully made' and by creating an environment of growth and secure safe relationships. Students are encouraged to become lifelong learners within an educational environment that is safe, relationship centred, inclusive of gender, and mindful of individual needs, age, interests and potential.

We believe that all are created equal and uniquely by a loving God and that respect should be shown to the beliefs and opinions of others. It is important that students develop an ability to communicate effectively, nurture and support others, value community and be resilient. We aim to do this by 'Giving Due Honour' to all people, in doing so celebrate their strengths, cultural/ linguistic diversity and the multiplicity of their contribution to our learning community.

We believe the culture of the school embodies the beliefs; teaching and learning, wellbeing and discipline philosophies of the school. None of these can operate effectively in isolation of the others and each should equally and consistently reflect our core beliefs.

We believe that authentic, meaningful learning is demonstrated in transferable understanding and can best be established in a learning environment that truly allows for flexibility based on learning readiness not age, when students genuinely own their learning, and through constructed programs that reflect student interest and 'real life'. Learning should lead to the development of each student's potential and in doing so prepare them to engage with and contribute to their local and global communities with integrity.

Red Rock Christian College supports and promotes the principles and practices of Australian Democracy in accordance with Australian law, which includes respect for the authority of the elected government, the rule of law, equal rights for all, freedom of religion, freedom of speech and association.

Introduction to the child safe standards

Background to the standards

The Betrayal of Trust report was tabled on 13 November 2013. It found that while the majority of children are safe in organisations, there are inadequate and inconsistent approaches to child safety in organisations across Victoria. It provided 15 recommendations, including the introduction of child safe standards in Victoria to ensure child safe environments in organisations that work with children.

The Victorian Government has committed to implementing all of the recommendations of the Betrayal of Trust Inquiry. The Department of Health and Human Services (the department) is leading the development and implementation of the child safe standards, and has held consultations with organisations in Victoria likely to be subject to the new standards

The Victorian Government introduced child safe standards to improve the way organisations that provide services for children prevent and respond to child abuse that may occur within their organisation or to members of their organisation.

The standards are compulsory for all organisations providing services to children, and aim to drive cultural change in organisations so that protecting children from abuse is embedded in the everyday thinking and practice of leaders, staff and volunteers. This will assist organisations to:

- prevent child abuse
- encourage reporting of any abuse that does occur
- improve responses to any allegations of child abuse.

The child safe standards are a central feature of the Victorian Government's response to the Family and Community Development Committee of the Victorian Parliament's Betrayal of Trust: Inquiry into the Handling of Child Abuse by Religious and Other Non-Government Organisations (Betrayal of Trust Inquiry).

Ministerial Order No 870—Child Safe Standards— Managing the risk of child abuse in schools is a key part of the Government's response to the recommendations of the Victorian Parliamentary Inquiry into the Handling of Child Abuse by Religious and other Non Government Organisations.

In September 2015 the Government released new minimum child safe standards which aim to create child safe cultures and organisations that work with children.

As a minimum standard for school registration under the Education and Training Act 2006, schools must take action, in accordance with Ministerial Order 870, to manage and reduce the risk of child abuse.

The Victorian Registration and Qualifications Authority (the VRQA) will monitor and enforce compliance with the new standards. The new standards come into force on 1 August 2016.

The Child Safe Standards

The Child Safe Standards are as follows:

In complying with the Child Safe Standards an applicable entity to which the standards apply must include the following principles as part of their response to each standard:

- Promoting the cultural safety of Aboriginal children
- Promoting the cultural safety of children from culturally and/or linguistically diverse backgrounds
- Promoting the safety of children with a disability
- Take account of the diversity of all children

To create and maintain a child safe organisation, an applicable entity to which the standards apply must have:

Standard 1: Strategies to embed an organisational culture of child safety, including through effective leadership arrangements

Standard 2: A child safe policy of conduct that establishes clear expectations for appropriate behaviour with children

Standard 3: A code of conduct that establishes clear expectations for appropriate behaviour with children

Standard 4: Screening, supervision, training and other human resources practices that reduce the risk of child abuse by new and existing personnel

Standard 5: Processes for responding to and reporting suspected child abuse

Standard 6: Strategies to identify and reduce or remove risks of child abuse

Standard 7: Strategies to promote the participation and empowerment of children

Principle of Inclusion

At Red Rock Christian College we respect the cultural differences and variations in child rearing practices due to a family's cultural, personal or religious beliefs. We endeavour to establish a culture in which all children, regardless of gender, ethnicity, culture, age, socio-economic status, language, disability, religion or views are shown due honour, given every opportunity to develop their full potential and are safe from harm or unlawful discrimination.

The commission for Children and Young People (2015, p 12) states "...a child safe organisation recognises that these differences do not reduce a child's right to be safe or the organisation's responsibility to protect the child from harm." Furthermore "The Royal commission into Institutional Responses to Child Sexual Abuse Interim Report noted that some children are more vulnerable to abuse based on various factors including age, gender, ethnicity, disability and prior abuse or neglect." (p.12) Hence the requirement for schools to ensure their policies and practices minimise the risk to vulnerable children.

The child safe standards require schools to consider factors that may make some members of their community more vulnerable.

For Aboriginal children it has been reported that some contributing factors may be:

- past government policies like the forced removal of children from their homes and communities
- Lower socio-economic status
- Difference in child rearing practices
- Intergenerational trauma
- May not feel culturally safe enough to report abuse

For students who are culturally and or linguistically diverse factors may include:

- Distrust of social service providers
- Prior trauma or displacement and loss
- Communication barriers

For students with disabilities the following may be some of the contributing factors:

- Impaired communication
- Prior abuse
- Less sexual education than peers

Standard 6

Strategies to Identify and Reduce the Risk of Abuse

Ministerial Requirement

Child safety standard six (clause 12 of the Ministerial Order) requires the school governing authority to develop, implement, monitor and evaluate risk management strategies to ensure child safety in school environments.

There are five specific requirements of child safety standard six:

1. The school governing authority must develop and implement risk management strategies regarding child safety in school environments.
2. The school's risk management strategies regarding child safety must identify and mitigate the risk(s) of child abuse in school environments by taking into account the nature of each school environment, the activities expected to be conducted in that environment (including the provision of services by contractors or outside organisations), and the characteristics and needs of all children expected to be present in that environment.
3. If the school governing authority identifies risks of child abuse occurring in one or more school environments the authority must make a record of those risks and specify the action(s) the school will take to reduce or remove the risks (risk controls).

Explanatory note: Different risk controls may be necessary for particular groups of children depending on the nature of the risk and the diversity characteristics of children affected by the risk.

4. As part of its risk management strategy and practices, the school governing authority must monitor and evaluate the effectiveness of the implementation of its risk controls.
5. At least annually, the school governing authority must ensure that appropriate guidance and training is provided to the individual members of the school governing authority and school staff about:
  - (a) individual and collective obligations and responsibilities for managing the risk of child abuse;
  - (b) child abuse risks in the school environment; and
  - (c) the school's current child safety standards.

Meeting the requirements of Ministerial Order 870:

Risk Management for Incursions, Excursions and Camps

The curriculum is enhanced at Red Rock Christian College with a range of exciting incursions and excursions. Where-ever possible enduring understandings are reinforced with real-life application which often takes children out of the classroom or brings specialist and guest visitors to the classroom. This provides a depth of experience and a variety of ways to reinforce learning that couldn't otherwise be achieved.

One of the most exciting and memorable aspects of school is the fun and challenge of going on a camp. Camps are an integral part of the learning program from year three and add a depth to classroom learning, providing a wonderful opportunity to strengthen friendships and explore new places. Each camp provides opportunities to think, inquire and reflect upon our personal development, the world we live in and where we want to head into the future.

These programs heighten the need for diligence for assessing risk and minimising the possibility of harm to any student. Our robust excursion procedures include the completion of a risk assessment for each excursion or incursion which is completed by the staff coordinating the event and authorised by the principal.

Other Strategies to Minimise Risk of Harm

- Supervision— appropriate supervision is planned and implemented both at school and when away from school
- Emergencies—the College has a comprehensive Emergency Management Plan
- Online Safety—the College has comprehensive policies and procedures in place to maximise online safety
- Visitors - appropriate procedures are in place for the management of visitors to the school

Action to be completed

Child Safe Risk Management Policy and comprehensive system of risk management for child safety to be developed and implemented by the College Board by the end of 2016.

Standard 7

Strategies to Promote the Participation and Empowerment of Children

Child safety standard seven (clause 13 of the Ministerial Order) requires the school governing authority to develop and implement, strategies to promote confidence in communicating concerns to appropriate persons and participation in the life of the school.

There are two specific requirements of child safety standard seven:

1. The school governing authority must develop strategies to deliver appropriate education about:
  - (a) standards of behaviour for students attending the school;
  - (b) healthy and respectful relationships (including sexuality);
  - (c) resilience; and
  - (d) child abuse awareness and prevention.
2. The school governing authority must promote the child safety standards required by this Order in ways that are readily accessible, easy to understand, and user friendly to children.

Meeting the requirements of Ministerial Order 870:

We believe the culture of the school embodies the beliefs, teaching and learning, wellbeing and discipline philosophies of the College. None of these can operate effectively in isolation of the others and each should equally and consistently reflect our core beliefs.

In order to maximise student learning, it is necessary for students to feel safe and it is essential the wellbeing of the whole school community is developed. We aim to be a school in which its members flourish not just survive.

We are proactive in the establishment of our desired culture. This is discussed in more depth in our wellbeing and pastoral care statements. The following is an overview of how we develop a culture where students and staff respect and honour all members of the community.

At the core is our commitment to relationships and the understanding that all are fearfully and wonderfully made; Jesus demonstrated the essential nature of this in the exhortation to 'Love one another as I have loved you.'

- Positive, affirming and honouring relationships are established between staff and students, this includes across year levels;
- Regardless of which year level a student is in, values are frankly and sincerely explored in order to be fluently expressed; this occurs in the classroom and in weekly assemblies;
- Habits of Mind, including Growth Mind Set and Mindfulness strategies are taught and practised in all classrooms to enable students to develop confident, resilient and life giving habits of thinking;
- Character strengths are identified, taught and utilised to promote learning and positive interaction between students;
- Restorative practices are applied to build community: students are taught to own when they are wrong or have hurt someone, to seek forgiveness and take appropriate action to mend the broken relationship and rebuild trust. The offended is taught to forgive and participate in the restorative process;
- Students participate in establishing behaviour expectations based on valuing one another and supporting our community;
- Students' opinions and ideas are sought and considered by staff on matters concerning them;
- House teams operate to build unity and connectedness amongst students;
- Student leaders are appointed to support students and represent them;
- The school psychologist works with staff, students and parents to build a culture of whole school wellbeing and when necessary provides additional support or intervention;

In order to promote the safety and wellbeing of all students, clear guidelines are established and these include measures that may need to be implemented to protect students.

The following policies inform the steps to be taken at such times as student behaviour affects the safety and wellbeing of others.

- Bullying, Harassment and Discrimination (Policy 8.2)
- Cyber Bullying (Policy 8.1.1)
- Acceptable Use (Policy 8.1.2)
- Cybersafe Agreement (Policy 1.3)
- Social Networking – Student (Policy 8.2.2)
- Discipline and Behaviour and Student Grievances (Policy 8.4.8 – 8.4.14)

What is Child Abuse?

What is child abuse?

The child safe standards aim to protect children from abuse in organisations. Under the Act, child abuse includes four categories of abuse as outlined below. Child abuse also includes Grooming under section 49B (2) of the Crimes Act 1958.

While the standards apply specifically to child abuse, organisations should look to promote children's health and wellbeing in a broader sense.

Physical Violence

Physical violence occurs when a child suffers or is likely to suffer significant harm from a non-accidental injury or injuries inflicted by another person. Physical violence can be inflicted in many ways, including beating, shaking, burning or use of weapons (such as, belts and paddles).

Possible physical indicators are:

- Unexplained bruises;
- Burns and/or fractured bones.

Possible behavioural indicators are;

- Showing wariness or distrust of adults;
- Wearing long sleeved clothes on hot days (to hide bruising or other injury);
- Fear of specific people;
- Unexplained absences;
- Academic problems.

Sexual offences

Sexual offences occur when a person involves the child in sexual activity, or deliberately puts the child in the presence of sexual behaviours that are exploitative or inappropriate to his/her age and development. Child sexual abuse can involve a range of sexual activity including fondling, masturbation, penetration, voyeurism and exhibitionism. It can also include exposure to or exploitation through pornography or prostitution, as well as grooming behaviour.

Possible physical indicators are:

- Presence of sexually transmitted diseases;

It can include derogatory name-calling and put-downs, or persistent and deliberate coldness from a person, to the extent where the behaviour of the child is disturbed or their emotional development is at serious risk of being impaired. Serious emotional or psychological abuse could also result from conduct that exploits a child without necessarily being criminal, such as encouraging a child to engage in inappropriate or risky behaviours.

Serious neglect can also occur if an adult fails to adequately ensure the safety of a child where the child is exposed to extremely dangerous or life threatening situations.

- Frequent hunger ;
- Malnutrition;
- Poor hygiene;
- Inappropriate clothing.

Grooming

The Crimes Amendment Act 2014, which commenced in Victoria on 9 April 2014 introduces the offence of Grooming for Sexual Conduct with a child under the age of 16.

What is grooming?

- The offence of grooming concerns predatory conduct undertaken to prepare a child for sexual activity at a later time.
- The offence applies where an adult communicates, by words or conduct, with a child under the age of 16 years or with a person who has care, supervision or authority for the child with the intention of facilitating the child's involvement in sexual conduct, either with the groomer or another adult.

- Grooming does not necessarily involve any sexual activity or even discussion of sexual activity – for example, it may only involve establishing a relationship with the child, parent or carer for the purpose of facilitating sexual activity at a later time.
- The sexual conduct must constitute an indictable sexual offence. This includes offences such as sexual penetration of a child, indecent assault and indecent act in the presence of a child. It does not include summary offences, such as 'upskirting' and indecent behaviour in public.

Who can commit the offence?

The offence can be committed by any person aged 18 years or over. It does not apply to communication between people who are both under 18 years of age. <sup>2</sup>
